

Word Worth®

World Magazine of Ideas and the Arts™ — ©Spring 2019 Volume XIX, Issue 2

Cover Editorials Columns Letters Arts Insights Take A Look

Front Cover

Editorials— What We've Got to Tell Our Daughters

Columns — Engagement

Arts — Rediscovering Robert Browning

Comment at:
News@WordWorth.org

Archives — Our archives are stored at www.wordworth.org

Word Worth's mission is to publish Editorials and Columns on subjects as diverse as xeriscaping, travel, archaeology, and many others, and to present fine poetry, stories, novels, and photography in the Arts section. The opinions presented are those of the individual writers, and not necessarily those of Word Worth. We do not shy away from controversial subjects, but we believe in dealing with them respectfully and rationally. In one of his relatively more recent concerts, Arlo Guthrie said that over the years he had made friends that he might not have expected to make initially. He concluded that there are two kinds of people: those who care and those who don't. He came to realize that you can find both of those kinds on every side of every issue. We concur with that sentiment, and hope to present ideas in the spirit of enlightened searching.

We are honored to have readers in more than 150 countries.

Word Worth's Awards — 15 are the coveted Apex Awards and three of these are the ultimate Grand Awards:

If we cannot discuss rationally and respectfully the issues concerning our governance, this democracy will not last.

—M H Perry

Use your talents to give back to the Cosmos from the gifts that you've been given.

—M H Perry

When the sun shines

Word Worth photographer David Clark won the New York Central Terminal Photo Contest Expo 2001.

through the shade of our 120+ year old lamp, it makes a perfect peace sign. The world has seen a lot of wars since this lamp has been standing.

© WORD WORTH® 2019

©2019

Website by

